BELA KUN'S FALL WEAKENS HOLD OF LENIN GOVERNMENT

Bolshevist Leaders Call Conferences at Kief And Moscow

ARMY IN STRAITS

Radical Troops Are Hard Pressed By Denikin On Southern Front

REVOLTS DEVELOP

Reported Massacre Of All Foreigners In Moscow Is Planned

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 16.—Reuter's agency learns that the position of the Bolshevist Government in Russia is becoming daily more precarious. The events at Budapest and the dramatic fall of Bela Kun have exercised a very demoralising influence in the Bolshevist ranks and conferences of the various parties have been summoned by Lenin at Moscow and Rakovsky at Kief in order to discuss the necessary measures with a view to bolstering up the Soviet regime.

The Bolshevist troops are hard pressed by General Denikin's army, which already has reached a line extending north of Poltava, while a number of well-organised revolts of the local peasantry in the neighborhood of Kief have greatly hampered the enemy in his resistance to the offensive against the Ukrainians and in defense of Kief against the general encircling movement beyond Loyto.

Report Lenin Deposed

Copenhagen, August 13.—Dr. Martini, the head of the Danish Red Cross in Russia, has just returned from Russia.

He declares that Lenin no longer rules, the Ultra-Radicals having supplanted him. Moscow is governed by a Lett named Peters, of the notorious Houndsditch affair, together with Oderschenski and Antonoff, the organisers of Hungarian Bolshevism. They are at present endeavoring to arrange a massacre of all the foreigners in Moscow. Tchicherin, the Foreign Commissary, told Dr. Martini that the Government is unable any longer to protect foreigners. Kameneff, the Bolshevist Generalissimo, was a strong and able man and the army was in good condition, famine was general and the population is exhausted and ready for anything.

Drive On Odessa

London, August 14.—It is authoritatively stated that the left wing of the Volunteer army is closing in on Odessa from the Northeast and East. Its recent successes leave only one line of railway open to Odessa, from which the Volunteers are only 13 miles distant.

Victory On Dvina Front

Archangel, August 14.—An absolutely complete victory has been secured over the Bolshevists on the Dvina front. The attack was undertaken to stiffen the morale of the young Russian troops, among whom agitators have recently been very busy. The enemy were taken by surprise.

The attacking troops marched through the forests on both banks on a dark night, capturing or avoiding the enemy patrols, and took up positions in the enemy's rear and on his flank. The first notification the enemy had of their presence was a hurricane bombardment.

Russian and British batteries, gun-boats and motor-launches, heavily armed, and machine guns co-operated. The extreme mobility of the launches was very effective.

All points of possible retreat were guarded by detachments of Russian cavalry.

British Launch Attack

The enemy was completely surrounded and ceased to fire. Simultaneously the British troops charged with the bayonet into all the villages and much hand-to-hand

JAPANESE ENVOY ASKS PEKING TO END BOYCOTT

Means To Obviate Necessity Of Consortium Are Also Discussed By Yoshizawa

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 14.—It is understood that Mr. Yoshizawa recently drew the attention of the Chinese Government to the boycott and expressed the hope that the Government would take measures to suppress it. Mr. Yoshizawa was visited by several Chinese officials holding important railway or financial positions, with whom it is said he discussed an agreement between Japan and China to obviate the necessity for the new consortium. Mr. Yoshizawa will leave Peking this evening for Japan via Dairen.

Liu Chin-jen Named Minister To Tokio

Member Of Interallied Rail Commission In Siberia Has Not Yet Accepted Post

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 14.—After discussing the names of several officials the Government has offered the post of Chinese Minister to Tokio to Mr. Liu Chin-jen, who is now a member of the Interallied Railway Commission in Siberia. It is not known whether Mr. Liu will accept the post.

The removal of Mr. Liu will mark the end of all opposition to the Japanese in the regions of the Chinese Eastern Railway. During the conference at Vladivostok Mr. Liu stoutly defended Chinese interests and it was owing largely to him that China retained control of the railway. His transfer to Tokio came as a complete surprise to many of his friends.

Paris Council To Consiaer New Anglo-Persian Treaty Which French Press Attacks

Held Country Is Made British Protectorate By Agreement; Opinion in London Is That It Ends Foreign Intrigue And Promotes Peace

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 16.—The French press is actively engaged in attacking the Anglo-Persian treaty, which would practically make Persia an English protectorate. The subject is expected to be brought before the Council of Five as soon as the Shah of Persia arrives in Paris. It is said that he intends to ask the United States to force Great Britain to nullify the treaty, which he claims was imposed upon Persia.

Paris, August 14.—Le Temps states that an Anglo-Persian agreement has been concluded which recognises the independence and integrity of Persia but the terms appear to indicate that British influence will be paramount. The Shah has started for England in connection with the agreement.

London, August 15.—Reuter's Agency issues details of the new Anglo-Persian agreement, the general result of which it is hoped will contribute largely to the future peace of the East as well as end the foreign intrigues and jealous competition of rival powers and give the best chance for Persia to recuperate that she has had for a century. After pledging to respect the absolute independence of the country, the Agreement undertakes to supply, at the cost of Persia such expert advisers as are considered necessary for the administration and also to lend officers for a new uniform military force which it is proposed to establish, while the British Treasury will advance £2 millions, to be shared equally by the Indian Government, and secured upon the customs revenues, in order to permit the initiation of necessary reforms.

London, August 16.—The Manchester Guardian says that, honestly and honorably worked, the Anglo-Persian agreement may prove the beginning of a new and better era for a once great people.

London, August 16.—The Times remarks Great Britain's desire is that Persia shall stand on her own feet and, with the aid now given her, she should be able to reorganise her administration. The Persians have now a renewed opportunity to show their capacity for enlightened government. If they cease from strikes and purge their departments from corruption, the agreement should help to produce a definite stabilisation of the Middle East, of which Persia is the core."

The Daily Chronicle comments "It is to Persia's interest and to ours that she shall be free. It is also to both our interests to shut the door to concession hunters and to check the intrigues of the Young Turks, Bolsheviks, discontented Mohammedans and adventurers."

The Daily Mail points out that there is no justification for any anxiety regarding the complete independence of Persia.

Representation Asked On Municipal Council By Chinese Chamber

Stand Taken By Commercial Body May Complicate Situation; Council Remains Firm

Although collections of taxes from Chinese ratepayers yesterday were better than on any previous day, a communication to the Council from the Chinese Chamber of Commerce asking that the collections be postponed for two weeks, demanding a representative on the Municipal Council and announcing that the Chamber is to appoint a delegation which hopes to confer with the Council, may further complicate matters.

The Council will not receive any delegation, will not suspend the collection of rates and refuses to consider any sort of a compromise, it was authoritatively stated yesterday afternoon.

The letter from the Chinese Chamber of Commerce expressed dissatisfaction at the communication sent by the Council to Mr. Chu Lai-fong. It also voiced disapproval of payment of rates and in asking a postponement hoped that a conference could reach an arrangement that would be mutually satisfactory to the Council and the Chinese ratepayers.

Over 100 residents of North Szechuen Road Extension have formed a union to protest against paying the increased taxes and fight any attempts to extend the Settlement territory.

Dr. Reinsch To Quit Post At Peking As American Minister

Resignation He Submitted In June Is Accepted By State Department

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 18.—After repeated requests, the State Department has accepted the resignation of the American Minister, Dr. Reinsch, which was submitted on June 7.

The State Department asked Dr. Reinsch to remain until September 15.

Dr. Reinsch's resignation is due to a desire to re-enter affairs in the United States after an absence of six years, during which time the American Minister gained the whole-hearted respect and esteem of all classes in the Capital, especially the Chinese, with whom he is deservedly very popular.

Dr. Reinsch affirms that he will always retain an interest in China.

ALL COUNCIL EMPLOYES GET RAISES IN SALARY

Fifteen Percent Increase Is Amalgamation Of War Bonus Into Regular Pay

An increase of pay for members of all departments of the Municipal Council, dating from May first, has been announced by the Council.

The general raise is an amalgamation of war bonus into salaries. It allows approximately 15 percent to all employes up to Taels 300. The highest increase is Taels 45 per month.

The police department scale has been revised and some members of the electricity department are placed on a different basis.

Sewage System For Bund Area

Scheme Immediately Planned For Central District To Become Part Of General System

Plans for the installation of a sewage system in the Central District, which will be part of the ultimate general sewage system of the Settlement, have been submitted to the Municipal Council by Mr. C. H. Godfrey, head of the Public Works Department, and will be published in a special number of the Municipal Gazette to be circulated tomorrow.

The suggestions to put into effect the long-contemplated plan are embodied in a report of investigation made by Mr. Godfrey after an intimate study of local conditions and a tour of American cities. The chief engineer returned to Shanghai two weeks ago after eight months in the United States.

The Municipal Council plans eventually to install a modern sewage system throughout the Settlement and although the arrangements for the Central District are to proceed immediately the Central system will become part of the general scheme.

GERMAN CONSTITUTION PROCLAIMED AT WEIMAR

Property Levy Being Made To Be Cancelled If Allies Try To Seize It

(Reuter's Service)

Weimar, August 14.—The President announced today in the National Assembly that the Government, deferring to the general wish, had agreed to continue the name of the National Assembly but with the rights and duties of the Reichstag.

Herr Erzberger said that if the Entente tried to seize the yield of the distress offering, as the levy on property is styled, he would ask the National Assembly to cancel the levy.

Constitution Proclaimed

Berlin, August 13.—The new constitution has been promulgated.

Herr Bauer is appointed Imperial Chancellor. The National Assembly will henceforth be styled the Reichstag while the Federal Council replaces the States or Federal Committee.

A decree signed by the Imperial President orders all officials and members of the Defense Forces to take the oath to the Constitution.

Declaration Forms Issued By Customs

Blanks Must Be Filled Out By Passengers Landing Here

The new Chinese Maritime Customs baggage declaration forms, which must henceforth be filled out by all passengers landing in Shanghai, have been issued and distributed to the various steamship companies for issue to ships.

The instructions state that passengers will be allowed to bring in free of duty necessary and appropriate wearing apparel, articles of personal adornment, toilet articles and similar personal effects actually owned by them and already in their own wear or use and not for sale. All other articles in their baggage must be declared. Household effects, cigars (if over 200 in number), cigarettes (if over 500 in number), tools of trade and articles owned by or intended for others or for sale or business or professional uses must be declared, as must also samples of foreign or domestic merchandise.

The importation is prohibited, except under license previously obtained, of arms and munitions of war, explosives, bombs, and materials used in manufacture thereof, salt, opium and its derivatives, hypodermic syringes and obscene pictures.

RUMANIA REMINDED POWER IN HUNGARY RESTS WITH ALLIES

Paris Answers Bucharest Saying Conference Will Fix All Reparations

CHARGES DENIED

Rumania Says Forces at Budapest Committed No Excesses

OPPOSE ARCHDUKE

Protest On His Accession To Power Is Made In Paris By Czechs

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 15.—The Supreme Council, counter-replying to Rumania, expresses satisfaction that Rumania intends to work in agreement with the policy of the Peace Conference in Hungary: hence it expresses the opinion that Rumania intends to conform to the decisions of the Peace Conference as communicated through its Military Mission at Budapest by the Supreme Council.

It points out that the Peace Conference on three occasions has acquainted Bucharest with the details of the present policy of the Allies towards Hungary with regard to the disarmament of the Hungarian troops, the maintenance of order with the smallest foreign forces; the revictualling of Hungary and abstention from all interference in its internal politics.

The Supreme Council insists that the final recovery of war railway and agricultural material and live stock at present cannot take place. The Peace Conference alone possesses the right to fix reparation by Hungary and its distribution among the interested States. Neither the Rumanian army nor Government has the right itself to fix Rumania's share, as all the assets belonging to Hungary are a pledge held by the Allies in common.

Defense Is Offered

Paris, August 14.—The Rumanian reply handed to the Supreme Council is couched in conciliatory and dignified language.

It urges that the army has not been guilty of excesses in Hungary, that Rumania does not desire to separate herself from the Allies and points out that the telegraphic request to stop the march to Budapest was not received until the city had been entered. Other telegrams from the peace Conference were similarly delayed.

It points out that Rumania could not anticipate that the peace conference would insist on the maintenance of the November armistice after her army, sustaining considerable losses, had, at the request of the peace conference, driven the Bolshevist Government from Budapest. In view of this effort the Government considered it only just to requisition supplies in Hungary, especially as a great deal of material of which Rumania was stripped by the Central Powers is concentrated there.

Denies Pillaging Reports

It is contended that despite the requisitions available surpluses for export remain. It is denied that pillaging and anarchy have been encouraged. The Rumanians have introduced order and now are feeding the starving peoples of Budapest.

Finally it is declared that Rumania has not merited the charges against her. On the contrary she has materially aided the peace conference in the work of peace.

Cabinet Is Reorganised

Copenhagen, August 16.—It is officially announced from Budapest that the Cabinet has been reformed with M. Friedrich still Premier, M. Lovaczy, Minister for Foreign Affairs, and General Schnetzler Minister of war, all bourgeois radicals.

The other parties represented are the small farmers, the clericals, the anti-Semites, the Conservatives and the old official class.

Several portfolios have been offered to the Social Democrats, who hesitate to accept them owing to fears that the Conservative and Bourgeoisie Parties intend to abolish Count Karolyi's scheme of proportional representation.

Socialists Voice Protest

Berlin, August 14.—There has been a hitch in the constitution of the new Hungarian Cabinet, the Socialists at the last moment refusing to join and protesting against the wholesale arrests of Communists, including even the women typists in the Government offices. M. Friedrich remains Premier and M. Lovaczi Minister for Foreign Affairs. The other Ministers are extreme conservatives.

Czechs Oppose Archduke

Paris, August 14.—A Czecho Slovak delegation has presented a note to the Supreme Council protesting against the accession of the Archduke Joseph to the Hungarian Government.

Move In French Chamber

Paris, August 14.—A French Socialist deputy has announced the intention of interpellating the Government on the part taken by France in recent events in Hungary more particularly in connection with the accession of the Archduke Joseph to power.

The Czecho-Slovak delegation is said to be disturbed by the position assumed by the Archduke. Not only Prague, but Belgrade and Bucharest are said to view the return of the Hapsburgs to power with apprehension.

Get Rumanian Note

Paris, August 14.—According to Le Matin, a Rumanian note has reached the Legation which establishes the fact that the Rumanian requisitions in Hungary were very moderate measures. The Rumanian Government assures the Supreme Council that her armies will take all military measures in full agreement with the Allied representatives in Budapest.

Report Of Allied Mission

Paris, August 13.—It appears that the Supreme Council has not received the reply of the Rumanian Government but it considered today the report from the Allied Commission of generals at Budapest describing their conversation with M. Diamanois, the Rumanian High Commissioner, who denied that the Rumanian Government had supported the Archduke Joseph's coup d'etat. The allied generals told M. Diamanois that they were instructed to supervise the execution of the Hungarian armistice. The latter replied that he must consult General Madaresen on the matter. He agreed to examine the question of the requisitioning of food-stuffs and railways and admitted that fresh demands had been presented to the frontiers but denied that they were an ultimatum, of which the Archduke Joseph had complained to the Allied generals.

A subsequent telegram from the Allied generals informed the Supreme Council that the Rumanian Government declined to accept orders from the Mission and the latter asked for confirmation of their instructions.

Instructions Are Sent

Paris, August 14.—The Supreme Council has instructed the Inter-Allied Mission of Generals at Budapest that they constitute a diplomatic mission; hence they are not entitled to give orders to the Rumanian Mission. They are also instructed not to commit the Supreme Council to recognition of the new regime because the Supreme Council does not know whether it will prove stable.

PROFITEERING MEASURE IS PASSED BY COMMONS

Supplementary Legislation To Deal With Trusts Will Be Introduced

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 14.—The House of Commons passed the third reading of the Profiteering bill this evening. A new clause empowers the Board of Trade to investigate trusts was discussed.

Sir Auckland Geddes announced that a special Government bill would be introduced in the Autumn which would deal with the whole question of trusts.

The select committee on profiteering, whose operations were suspended, decided yesterday to resume its investigations.

Hold All-Night Session

London, August 14, 5:50 a.m.—The House of Commons was still discussing the Profiteering bill at 5 o'clock this morning, when Sir Auckland Geddes accepted and the House adopted an amendment to the municipal trading clause designed to prevent subsidising experiments in trading at the expense of the ratepayers.

The debate was very animated, the speeches indicating general approval of the object of the bill but doubts whether its methods are likely to be effectual. Ministerialists like Sir Ernest Wild, Lord Francis Cecil and Sir Francis Lowe were among the strongest critics of the bill, which Sir Ernest Wild described "as the worst drafted measure ever seen." Lord Robert Cecil declared that the country is utterly tired of D.O.R.A. and the whole policy of control.

Only a score of lines of the bill had been covered after the debate had lasted 13 hours. The Government had allowed only one day for the bill to pass the committee stage, hence the all-night sitting.

6 a.m.

The Profiteering bill has passed the committee stage and the House of Commons is now discussing the Transport bill.

8:30 a.m.

The House of Commons rose at 7:30 this morning.

Definition Is Given

London, August 14.—Among important changes in the Profiteering bill, a reasonable profit is defined as a rate of profit which does not exceed the fair average rate earned in the sale of similar articles under the conditions existing before the war.

Prices Fixed In France

Paris, August 14.—The list of prices at which articles of food must be sold in Paris shops was issued yesterday. The prices must be prominently displayed. This action by the Government will check profiteering, thus reducing the cost of living.

Wilson Says High Prices Are Deliberately Created

President In Address Before Congress Asserts Living Costs Not Justified By Shortage Of Supplies

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 15.—The following telegram from Washington, dated August 2, has been received by the American Legation:

President Wilson addressed a joint session of Congress today on the high cost of living to urge continuance of control and reduction of the cost of food.

High prices are not justified by the shortage of supply and are deliberately created by unreconcilable practices which the law must check. He said that politically and economically the world is on the operating table and confidence is normal in the restoration of business and hopeful for the attempt at reconstruction until peace is established.

He said that "so far as may be guaranteed, there can be no settled conditions here or elsewhere until the Peace Treaty is out of the way and work of war liquidation becomes the chief concern of the Governments of the world," also that "It is idle to look for permanent relief while there is any possibility that peace terms may be changed or held long in abeyance or may not be enforced because of differences of opinions among the Powers associated with Germany."

He recommended extensions of the present food control law with penalties for profiteering, regulation of undue profits and control of security issues. He said, "Surplus stocks of food and clothing in the hands of the Government will be sold without profit and surplus stored stocks in private hands will be forced into the market."

"America," he said, "by her action in arms saved Europe. She must now save it by her action in peace. In saving Europe she will save herself as she did upon the battlefields of the war."

He expressed confidence that the more extreme leaders of labor would presently yield to sober second thought and that all would unite to dishearten the high cost of living and by frank and intimate counsel now and in the readjustment period ahead would make America great and triumphant as a united force in the life of the world. The world, he added, will not have to look to us for leadership in vain then.

GERMANY SENDS NOTE ON MOVES IN LETTLAND

Denies Withdrawal Of Troops Was Purposely Delayed; Will Not Recall von Der Goltz

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, August 15.—The German Government in a Note to the Entente denies the evacuation of Lettland has been purposely delayed.

It says that it is proceeding in accordance with the plan agreed between General von Der Goltz and General Gough on July 19. The German Government declines to comply with the demand for the recall of General von Der Goltz, which would be an encroachment on German military authority, and reserves the right to recall him when the evacuation has sufficiently advanced.

It concludes by declaring that the German volunteers are very bitter at the non-fulfilment of the promise made by Ullamnis Cabinet to allow them to settle in the country and become Lett citizens and warns of the danger of increasing the friction by an over-hasty evacuation.

Local Cantonese Advance Over $200,000 To Relieve Situation In South

More than $200,000 was subscribed and advanced by local Cantonese firms and individuals yesterday to provide for the cheap sale of rice in Canton. The money was raised at a meeting of the Cantonese Residents' Union in Shanghai called as a result of the food shortage in the South.

Among those who contributed towards the cause were the Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company, Ltd., $50,000; Messrs. Kan Chiu-nan and Kan Yu-ka, $10,000 each and other organisations. Those agreeing to advance substantial sums of money also included the Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company, $100,000; banking corporation of Canton, $50,000, and Mr. Chen Lien-pah, $50,000.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Chun Bing-him and many among the 100 or more present pledged to devote several hours every day to serve in the relief work. According to the report of Mr. Kan Chin-shih, more than 70 cities are taking advantage of the cheap sale. At first there was looting of rice shops in Hongkong but this has abated as a result of the release of 1,000,000 catties each from Hongkong and Amoy. In spite of the present improved situation, Mr. Kan expressed the opinion that a great deal of money is needed to bring over the shortage till the Autumn harvest.

Saito Is Appointed Governor Of Kore

Mr. Mizung Is Named Chief Of Civil Administration Of Country At Same Time

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, August 12, (delayed.)—The formal appointment of Admiral Saito as Governor-General of Korea and of Mr. Mizung as Chief of the Civil Administration of Korea is gazetted today.

At the same time Admiral Saito who was on the reserve list, is restored to the active list, a pure technicality rendered necessary because the new organisation making it possible to appoint a civilian governor-general of Korea has not yet been promulgated.

Admiral Saito's appointment is being made under the existing system which requires that a general or admiral on the active service list to receive the appointment.

BRITAIN TO GIVE PRIZES TO DEVELOP AEROPLANES

Announcement To Commons Of Purpose In View Is Made By General Seely

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 14.—In the House of Commons today, replying to a question, General Seely announced that the Government intended to offer prizes aggregating £64,000 for the best commercial types of seaplane and small and large aeroplanes. The paramount essential of commercial air-craft was safety, which should be the governing feature of the design in competing machines.

Taking Precautions On Tientsin-Pukow

Railway Issues Regulations To Prevent Spread Of Choleraic Epidemic

A list of regulations for the prevention of the spread of cholera has been issued by the Tientsin-Pukow Railway Administration and the full text will be found in another column.

The regulations state that medical officers will be on duty at Tientsin, Tsinanfu, Hsuchowfu, Pengpu and Pukow stations as well as at junctions with other lines and waterways to examine passengers before tickets are sold. Medical officers will also be on duty on all trains to examine passengers and all infected cases found will be immediately isolated and shall be sent to the nearest hospital. Carriage of coffins will be discontinued during the duration of the epidemic and special precautions or disinfection are to be enforced on all trains and at all stations.

Cholera At Tsinan

(China Press Correspondence)

Tsinan, August 15.—A patient admitted to the Shantung Christian University Hospital yesterday died at noon today after an illness of less than twenty-four hours. The foreign physician in charge of the case diagnosed the disease as typical Asiatic cholera.

Chefoo Sends Aid

Chefoo, August 14.—Reports from Tengchowfu are decidedly bad. There they have got Asiatic cholera of the most virulent type and it is carrying off the people at the rate of seventy per day. The natives are dead scared and their application to the Rev. Adams, a resident missionary there, for effective help in combatting the dreaded disease is most pathetic. As response for assistance resulted in the departure from Chefoo last night of Drs. Dunlap and Heimberger, both medical men belonging to the American Presbyterian Mission. Thus far, if reports are reliable, Chefoo has escaped. No cases of Asiatic cholera have occurred yet and we are hoping that we shall get through. Ten years ago we suffered terribly but it is difficult to state that the Chinese have learned a lesson. The coolies munch the melons, not always ripe, which are exposed to all the dust and dirt of the roadside. These cheap melons often lie cut open on the stalls and baskets, a happy hunting ground for flies and other insects and are a great attraction to the coolie class. Cholera ten years ago was not wiped out till the fruit vendors were forbidden to bring and sell their fruit on the streets and perhaps it would be wise if the authorities could take some such similar action before it gets too late. Today a case of cholera very much resembling Asiatic cholera occurred but the diagnosis about noon was that it was not the real thing.

A COMMON COMPLAINT OF CHILDHOOD

Many children in this country are troubled with worms, some of the indications of which are irregular appetite, bad breath, grinding of the teeth in sleep, pain and swelling of the abdomen, irritation in the nose. Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, given for a few days destroy worms, and a marked improvement in appetite and general health speedily follows.

Mrs. A. Sauvie, of Rowantan, Quebec, writes: "My boy was badly troubled with worms and was feverish and restless. I got a vial of Baby's Own Tablets and since giving them to him all signs of the worms have disappeared and he is now in good health. I think Baby's Own Tablets have no equal as a medicine for this trouble."

Guaranteed free from opiates and absolutely harmless even to the youngest infant. Baby's Own Tablets are a remedy for indigestion, constipation, simple fever, diarrhoea and teething troubles. They are obtainable from chemists, also at 60 cents the vial post free from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

LABOR MEETING PLANS CONSIDERED IN COMMONS

Questions How Non-European Countries Will Be Affected By Treaty Clause Discussed

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 15.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Commander Kenworthy, Mr. G. H. Barnes said the extent to which non-European countries, including Japan, and possessions not fully self-governing, including India, could adopt the principles laid down in Article 427 of the League of Nations, governing the conditions of labor, would be worked out at the International Labor Conference.

With regard to the eight hours' day or 48 hour week, the organising committee which is preparing for the first conference in October has invited the states mentioned to indicate the equivalent limitation of working hours considered suitable in the special circumstances of their countries.

India is not in the same category as the non-fully self-governing colonies because she is a full member of the League of Nations and of the Labor organisation. Representatives of Indian organised labor, if such an organisation existed, would be invited to attend the conference, otherwise the Indian Government would select representatives. Japanese organised labor would be similarly invited or would be represented by the Japanese Government.

French Oppose Direct Action

Paris, August 14.—The French Federal Council of Railway Workers has adopted a resolution against direct action, condemning those militants who tried to obtain political decisions beyond the conceptions of the possibilities of action of the workers whom they represent, thus formulating a formal disavowal of the action threatened by the extremists of the trade union movement.

Employers Are Concerned Over What Changes For Mill Workers May Be Made

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Osaka, August 16.—Increasing anxiety is being felt by Japanese industrialists, especially the spinners, over the Labor Conference to be held at Washington in October.

Frequent conferences have been held here with a view to electing a suitable representative to present their position with regard to the reduction of hours, the abolition of night-work and child-labor which, if drastically and immediately carried out, will hit the spinners very hard.

PRESIDENT OF ARMENIA ASKS ALLIES FOR HELP

Reports Movement Of Turks, Kurds, And Tartars Led By Enver Pasha

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 14.—The President of Armenia has appealed to the Allies for help. He reports a vast movement is being directed by the Young Turks, Kurds and Tartars, led by Enver Pasha, and that other Turks and Turkish troops everywhere are disregarding the terms of the armistice and endeavoring to establish communication with the Russian Bolsheviki. Fighting has begun in some districts between the Turks and the Armenians. He begs the Conference to send detachments of Allied troops immediately or, alternatively, munitions, as the situation is very critical.

ARGUMENT OVER LOAN CULMINATES IN MURDER

One Dead And Three Injured In Street Fight; Police Make Three Arrests

A Chinese was so badly wounded during a fight on Yangtszepoo Road East shortly before ten o'clock Sunday night that he died in the ambulance while on the way to St. Luke's Hospital. Two others were injured but will recover and a third, now at the Police Hospital, was badly hurt. An argument over a loan of five dollars started the trouble.

Three arrests have been made. One of the arrested men is still at the Police Hospital. Detectives say that a knife was found on him. The two others in custody are alleged to have been armed with a hook and a chopper respectively.

The inquest over the body of the dead man, one Zung Tuh-wu, was begun at the Mixed Court yesterday afternoon and was adjourned.

fighting ensued, though many of the enemy surrendered immediately. 1,500 prisoners were taken at one spot. Many of the Bolshevists were killed and practically none escaped. Many of the enemy guns and machine guns were captured. Our casualties are believed to have been very light. All our objectives were reached.

There are now no enemy troops north of Kotlas.

A further advance by our forces is not anticipated.

UNION IN SOUTHWEST BELIEVED CRUMBLING

Discord In Kwangsi, Yunnan And Kwangtung Said To Be Growing Serious

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, August 13.—According to private and press telegrams from the South, the union of Southwestern provinces is gradually working to a general split-up. The resignation of Dr. Sun Yat-sen from the post of military administrator of the Southern Government, the conflicts between the various factions, and the struggle for the governorship of Kwangtung, together with the lack of money, are all factors tending to bring about disintegration.

There appears to be an essence of truth in the report that General Lu Yung-ting has instructed General Mo Yung-hsin to dissolve the Military Government, as, according to telegrams received here. Tuchun Mo now proposes to reorganise the Patrolling Corps and the guards of the Military Government and to place them under his own command. According to reports received by the Government, the struggle between the Kwangsi, Kwangtung and Yunnan units is becoming extremely serious. Fears are entertained that fighting may break out between them on account of the jealousy of the commanders of the various forces.

The resignation of Dr. Sun and others of his followers is taken to mean in certain quarters here that knowing that the Kwangtung Government is about to fall, Dr. Sun Yat-sen is getting out while the going is good.

General Lu Yung-ting, like all other military commanders who have held the Nanking position, dominates the situation. While the Northern party accuses him of sitting on the fence since he took up his position, yet there are many who consider that he really has the good of the country at heart. He is given the credit by those who know him best of being a clever and strong minded official, and one not easily carried away by anything emotional.

By some General Lu is said to be inconsistent, but he has been consistent in so far as he has refused to allow himself to be made a tool of by either the North or the South. At the time that Marshal Tuan Chi-jui re-established the Republic after defeating General Chang Hsun, Lu gave his support to that military leader. Later on, when he saw that the Northern militarists were trying to run the whole show in their own interests, he withdrew and for a time adopted a neutral attitude. Finally, when hostilities broke out between the North and South he lent his influence and a certain number of his men to the Southern cause. It is doubtful whether he was ever wholeheartedly with the Southern militarists, because more often than not they would act as unconstitutionalists as the Northern leaders. He, however, continued to preserve order in his locality and was always the first to show signs of being willing to bring about a compromise between the two conflicting parties. During the past two or three months he has been strenuous in his efforts to bring about a settlement. He has repeatedly urged the Southern military leaders to show less hostility toward the Northern Government and to persuade the Canton Government to be less exacting in its demands.

Apparently General Lu has become thoroughly tired of attempting to do anything with the Southern Government by argument or reason and is now in favor of forcing them to come to a compromise or to face extinction. It is said that he has come to arrangements with certain other Southern military leaders on the subject, and that he has also come to an understanding with the military party in the North supporting ex-President Feng Kuo-chang. Moreover, it is reported that he is willing to support the President against the present military clique in the capital and behind him in this are the Yangtsze Tuchuns, who have always more or less acknowledged his leadership, Lu Yung-ting is in favor of the dissolving of both parliaments, and of electing a new one at the earliest possible moment. If this is a true summary of General Lu Yung-ting's policy, and he is successful in co-ordinating his military power in mid-China, the Anfuites and their military supporters will find themselves faced with a strong opposition.

MAGISTRATE AT HINGHWA ACCUSED BY CITIZENS

Fukien Official's Activity In Making Collections Reported To Peking

(China Press Correspondence)

Hinghwa, Fukien, August 7.—The chief political interest in this section centers in a contest between the citizens and the magistrate. Last year the magistrate "winked" at the poppy growers and when the harvest was on this Spring passed the hat accompanied by squads of soldiers and various statistics as to the extent of the harvest indicating his share.

Being very successful in this harvest, he started another collection with the text that certain villages had furnished bandits for the allies of the Southern cause in the disturbances taking place the latter half of last year. When he approached a village that had been forced to put $3,800 into his hat during the first collection with a demand for $10,000 on the second text, all the men of the village fled to the hills. Thereupon he ordered his soldiers to capture twenty of the women and girls of the village and hold them in custody until the money was forthcoming. The villagers finally secured the release of the women by paying $3,000. However, the incident aroused the whole country, for never had a magistrate ordered the women of a village to be seized.

The Putien guild of Peking took up the matter in behalf of its home people with the result that the magistrate is having to use a lot of the money he collected in feasting various deputies sent to investigate his actions and in silencing inquisitiveness from higher up officials.

Cholera Is Slackening

The choleraic diarrhoea epidemic here is subsiding somewhat after about a month's siege. Outside of the work done by the two Mission hospitals nothing was done to relieve the situation but the disease was left to run its course. During the month hundreds of deaths occurred in this section. In some cases almost entire households were wiped out.

Progress Of Boycott

The student movement to boycott Japanese goods is still going strong. Their organisation in this city has established a weekly paper in advocation of their cause. It is interesting to note how this movement has spread down to the most out of the way places. Even out on islands off of the coast inhabited chiefly by fishermen there is resentment against the Japanese treatment of China.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

How to protect your skin from the harmful effects of this climate

Before going out, protect your skin by an application of Pond's Vanishing Cream. Use it on your hands and neck as well as your face. Compare the fresh, soft condition in which it keeps your face with the drawn, dry feeling that generally follows exposure to the weather.

Based on an ingredient which doctors have used for years for its softening, beautifying qualities, Pond's Vanishing Cream is of the utmost value in overcoming all dryness and restoring the normal pliancy to the skin.

It is absolutely free from greasiness. You can use it throughout the day or you can put it on while dressing for the evening, with the knowledge that not a bit of it will remain on the skin to make it shiny. It has a wonderfully beautifying effect, and as a base for powder it is so effective that one powdering is sufficient for the whole evening. Try it the very next time you want your skin to look its very best.

Only the very freshest, purest ingredients are used in the preparation of Pond's Vanishing Cream. It will not grow hair or down on the skin. Get a jar or tube of it today at any drug or department store.

MIXED COURT QUESTION IS UP AGAIN IN PEKING

Yang Tcheng Discussing Its Taking Over By Chinese Authorities

Mr. Yang Tcheng, the local Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, has been granted an audience by President Hsu Shih-chang in Peking. While no definite plan of the mission of Mr. Yang could be ascertained at the local office, it is learned that his mission is in connection with the question of the handing over of the International Mixed Court to China, negotiations for which were begun in early Spring but halted when Mr. Yang was recalled to Shanghai on account of the strike.

Mr. Yang will also discuss with the Ministry of Foreign affairs the establishment of diplomatic and consular relations with Siam, which has been vehemently agitated by overseas Chinese in that country. The latter allege ill-treatment by the local authorities on account of the absence of treaty relations. Two delegates have already arrived from Siam in Shanghai to further the aims of the overseas Chinese. They are Messrs. Chen Yuen and Feng Yu-fang.

Tientsin Body Plans Aid For Drug Addicts

The sum of $75,000 to be used for a hospital equipped to cure 12,000 victims of the drug habit each year is provided for in the $150,600 budget announced by the Anti-Narcotic Society of Tientsin in the quarterly report of its board of directors. The Civil Governor of Chihli has pledged his co-operation in the campaign for the required funds.

The Society plans to have 50 detectives traveling among the branch societies in Chihli province.

The report also announces that the head office of the International Anti-Opium Association will be moved from Peking to Shanghai.

GENERAL LU IN HANGCHOW

General Lu Yung-hsiang, the local defense Commissioner who succeeds the late General Yang Shan-teh as Tuchun of Chekiang, went to Hangchow Saturday. He took with him only 25 bodyguards of the first company of the tenth division. Upon arrival, he immediately took over the seal from General Fan Yu-ling in charge of the office after the death of General Yang.

While a Presidential Mandate has been issued ordering General Lu to hold the Shanghai office concurrently, many aspirants are working for the post. Among them are General Wu Kwan-hsin, brother-in-law of General Tuan Chi-jui, General Wang Ting-cheng, Deputy Inspector-General of the Yangtsze and a nominee of Ex-President Feng Kuo-chang and General Chen Lu San, the commander of the fourth division of Chekiang.

LIANG SHIH-YI AGAIN IS ACTIVE IN POLITICS

Former Speaker Of Senate To Come To Shanghai To Meet Southern Delegates

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, August 15.—Considerable interest is evinced here in the fact that Mr. Liang Shih-yi is again taking an active part in politics, for since the time he resigned his position as Speaker of the Senate he has been very little in the public eye. That a politician of his keenness has been altogether idle and has taken no interest in the political events of the day would be saying too much. He is intending to go to Shanghai within the next few days, where he is to meet a number of the Southern delegates.

It is stated that Mr. Liang's journey is closely connected with internal negotiations and discussion as to the advisability of contracting certain loans. It is stated that Mr. Liang has been discussing with certain British concerns the formation of a new Sino-British Industrial Syndicate for the development of various industries throughout the country. It is further reported that the scheme has advanced to the point where regulations have been drawn up covering joint co-operation, and that they have been submitted to the government, which has considered them favorably. In a rescript the Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce has sanctioned the registration of this syndicate, but a few minor alterations in the regulations are advised.

Peking Making Preparations To Reopen Peace Conference

Northern Delegates Asked To Assemble At Capital To Arrange For Work At Shanghai

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, August 14.—The Government has already despatched circular telegrams to the various Northern delegates, some of whom are at Shanghai, Tientsin and Peitaiho, urging them to assemble in Peking immediately. As soon as they arrive the Kuowuyuan (Cabinet) is to give a reception and banquet to the Northern Delegates, with a view to securing an exchange of views before their departure south.

Apparently there is now no doubt concerning the reopening of the Shanghai peace conference at an early date, although it will take some little time to make the necessary arrangements. Mr. Wang Yi-tang circulated a telegram yesterday announcing his acceptance of the post of Chief Delegate. He states that he accepts the post because he feels that the desire of the people to bring about a settlement is sincere. The date of Mr. Wang's departure for the south is not yet settled. Apparently the Government did not discuss with the Southern leaders concerning the appointment of Mr. Wang as its Chief delegate, and whether he will be acceptable to them or not is not yet certain.

For some time past the Southern leaders have been throwing the blame on the Central Government for the delay in reopening the Shanghai conference, in fact, they have repeatedly stated that the North has purposely delayed the negotiations, for political reasons of its own. The Chinese say that it was because of these accusations that the President so readily gave his consent to the appointment of Mr. Wang Yi-tang. Since it was learned that Mr. Wang was going to head the Northern delegation a number of the delegates are determined to hand in their resignation. Every attempt is being made to persuade them to reconsider their decision, but up to the present they have refused to do so. It is expected that the delegation will leave after the adjourning of parliament which is to take place at the end of this month. Previous to the appointment of Mr. Wang Yi-tang there was considerable opposition to the adjourning of parliament, and a move was on foot to secure another extension. It was decided at a meeting of the Anfu Club yesterday that should there be any questions of importance in connection with the budget after parliament is adjourned, a demand should be made to the government to call an extraordinary session.

In Chinese circles it is stated that Mr. Chen Lu, Acting Minister of Foreign Affairs and three high officials of the Ministry received Sir John Jordan and other members of the Legation at the Foreign Office yesterday. A British official from Tibet was also present. It is stated that this meeting was for formally opening the discussion on Tibet affairs with the object of securing a permanent settlement. The conference lasted for about two hours, a great part of the time being taken up by the British official from Tibet who made a statement concerning the state of affairs in that country. The result of the meeting was kept secret.

Notice Of Appointment Is Sent To Provinces

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, August 14.—Telegrams have been circulated by the President, the Acting-Premier and Mr. Wang Yi-tang addressed to the seven military directors of the Southern government and to the various provincial leaders announcing the appointment of Wang and making bids for his support in the post of internal peace delegate from the Northern government to the Shanghai conference. The only telegram so far received in reply was from General Tsao Kun, Tuchun of Chihli and Commissioner for the four Northern provinces, who was formerly in charge of the Northern expeditionary army against the South. Tsao Kun endorses personally the new delegate and urges the immediate resumption of negotiations. His opinion may be taken as indicative of the general attitude in the North toward the nomination. He is not a member of the Anfu Club, but a loyal supporter of the President, who apparently is willing to see a compromise brought about with the Anfu Club which makes possible the appointment of a Northern delegate with the power as well as the will to make peace. Since the failure of the old delegation under Chu Chi-chien, and the long dallying with political intrigue which has followed it, all moderates are willing to fall into a course by which they will not lose face and which will make possible the desperately needed reorganisation of the country and resumption of foreign negotiations, both political and financial.

The members of the Northern peace delegation will remain the same except for Mr. Hsu Fu-ssu who has resigned and has been replaced by Mr. Wang Yin-chuang, secretary of the House of Representatives. As Mr. Hsu is a member of the Chinputang or progressive party, while his successor is a prominent Anfu, the replacement can easily be understood. The other prominent members of the delegation belong either to the President's group or to the Anfu Club, and can work with Wang Yi-tang.

Following is the main part of the circular telegram to the provinces: "Three months have elapsed since the Shanghai conference was suspended. With an earnest desire for peace, the Central Government has repeatedly held consultations with the South sincerely and frankly regarding the resumption of the internal peace conference. According to telegrams received from the Southwest in this connection, the latter has expressed its willingness to make concessions. . . . But Mr. Chu Chi-chien on account of ill-health has firmly determined to resign from the post of Chief Northern delegate. Now with the concurrence of Parliament, Wang Yi-tang is hereby appointed to fill up the vacancy with plenipotentiary powers to go to Shanghai together with the other delegates and resume negotiation with the Southern delegation. Mr. Tsen Chun-hsuan and others have already been advised of this telegraphically and requested to notify the Southern delegation to meet the Northern delegation upon their arrival in Shanghai. They are also requested to resume and complete the negotiations in a simple manner and as speedily as possible, so that the settlement between the north and south may be brought about at an early date. You are requested to give due notification to the various classes of people and ask them to quietly wait for the re-establishment of the peace of the country."

NOTORIOUS TURK LEADER ESCAPES FROM PRISON

Halil Pasha, Held Responsible For Sufferings Of Troops Taken At Kut, At Large

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 15.—The Times correspondent at Constantinople states that Halil Pasha, a notorious member of the late Government, has escaped from prison, accompanied by the chief warder and the officer commanding the guard, despite the Entente's request to the Porte to exercise particular vigilance in the custody of political prisoners. Halil Pasha is considered to be largely responsible for the terrible sufferings of troops taken prisoners at Kut.

JAPANESE NOT TO BUILD RAILWAY LINE IN HONAN

Following Protests Against Project Assurances Ar. Given By Peking

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, August 13.—As a result of the strong protests of the Tuchun of Honan, the Honan Provincial Assembly and the people of Honan Province the Government has decided to cancel any arrangements made by the director of the Lung-Hai Railway with Japanese interests for the construction of the Tung Lo section of the line between Kuanyintang and Tungkuan. Acting upon this policy, the Ministry of Communications has sent a telegram to General Chao Ti, the Tuchun of Honan, informing him that neither Japanese money nor Japanese engineers will be made use of for the construction of the Kuanyintang-Tungkuan section, and instructing him to inform the people of Honan Province that the Government sympathises with their stand to keep the Tung Lo Railway out of Japanese hands.

Parliament in the meantime has before it a bill impeaching director Sze Shao-tseng, who concluded the arrangement with Japanese interests for the construction of the new section of the Tung Lo line. The bill of impeachment says, among other things, that the Lung-Hai Railway system, which passes through the heart of China, is of no less importance to the country than the Kinhan Line. Sze has been director of the Lung-Hai for the past eight years and during this time has succeeded in selling away all the rights of the railway and dissipating a large proportion of its funds. In the first five years of the Republic Sze contracted Belgian loans amounting to $44,000,000, but, although this money has been spent, only 276 miles of the line have been built. A further sum of $10,000,000 was borrowed for building the Tung-Cheng section of the line, but these funds have disappeared before even one mile of this branch was constructed. These disclosures in addition to the present plan for the construction of the Kuanyintang-Tungkuan section with Japanese capital and under the supervision of Japanese engineers, make it imperative that Parliament take immediate action for the impeachment and removal of Director Sze."

SHANGHAI, TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1919

The Tientsin-Pukow Railway Administration.

Notification No. 288 (064-5).

The public is respectfully informed that the following regulations are enforced from date on the Tientsin-Pukow Line until further notice:—

Regulations for the Prevention of Cholera Epidemic on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway

1. Each batch of two medical officers are provided at Tientsin, Tsinanfu, Hsuchow, Pengpu and Pukow stations as well as on junctions with other lines and waterways to examine passengers before tickets being sold to them at the station. If any passenger is found to be infected with the contagious disease, he shall be stopped from booking ticket and sent to a nearest hospital for treatment. Passengers of all classes coming off from trains shall also be subject to examination in like manner.

2. Medical officers are also provided on all UP and DOWN trains to examine passengers. In case any one being found infected with the disease, a simple treatment shall preliminarily be afforded, and, to avoid its spread, disinfection shall be promptly carried out and have the patient removed to the nearest hospital for treatment.

3. In case cholera broke out on a train on its midway and death occurred before sufficient measure can be had to afford treatment, the deceased shall be handed over to the nearest station which shall in conjunction with the local police authorities have the corpse promptly buried and disinfection carried out both on the spot as well as on the train so as to prevent infection.

4. During the period when the regulations of cholera prevention is being carried out, no coffin with corpse is allowed to be transported over any part or whole of this line.

5. Passenger cars of all classes attached to any UP and DOWN trains must be properly swept and kept clean. No dirt shall be allowed to remain especially on third class cars. Train guards shall supervise car boys and servants to carry out the work energetically and disinfection shall be applied as soon as a train arrives at its terminus station. Medical officers on trains will be held responsible to see that no unclean or deteriorated food stuff are supplied on dining and buffet cars attached to all trains. Offenders of the above will be severely dealt with.

6. Efficient disinfection must be kept on carrying out every day at all stations, waiting rooms, platforms, latrines and all places where passengers pass by.

7. For the benefit of public health, additional spittoons treated ready with lime and disinfection fluid are to be provided at all stations, waiting rooms and in trains.

8. Inspection at stations and on trains must be taken up with cordial attitude especially towards woman passengers. Advices in mild tone shall be offered in case of obstructions. No high handed manner is allowed and punishment is imperative if whoever commits such act.

9. At all stations sale of sweet melons, water melons, raw fruits, impure aerated water, fruit juice and all kinds of uncleanly cooked eatables that attract flies are prohibited.

10. At all the railway workshops, car sheds and places of resort of workmen, coolies and police, the officers in charge thereof shall effectively take in hand the precautionary measures against cholera as specially prescribed by the Railway Hospitals.

11. Report shall be made from time to time whenever development of the epidemic is noticed among passengers, workmen or labourers along the line.

12. All station staffs, guards, conductors and railway police officers either stationed or travelling in trains shall do their best to co-operate with the Sanitary Inspectors in carrying out their functions.

Banking Service with AMERICA —direct and personal

EXPORTERS or importers now engaged in, or thinking of, trade with America would do well to consider not only the special nature of our facilities, but also the personal interest we take in every one of our customers' transactions.

First of all, we offer direct banking service—without intermediary dealings, or unnecessary delays.

Equally important is our personal service. Every transaction is followed through, both here and in America, by our own representatives with a personal interest, the value of which is evident in the service rendered.

May we talk with you about America?

China Political Notes From Chinese Press

The Tuchuns of Hupeh, Kiangsi, Kiangsu, Shantung, Honan and Anhui have all accepted Mr. Wang Yi-tang's appointment by telegraph and inquired when he is leaving for the South.

In view of the choleraic epidemic and the extreme heat, the Ministry of Education has issued a circular order, postponing the opening date for the middle and elementary schools to September 1.

Ex-President Li Yuan-hung will soon make a trip to Kiukiang.

General Ma Liang, the Military Commissioner of Tsinanfu, who was credited with the execution of three Mohammedan citizens out of religious differences, arrived in Peking Saturday. He was received by President Hsu Shih-chang and warned to be more careful in his administration of justice.

Following the despatch of circular telegrams by certain local organisations, welcoming Mr. Wang Yi-tang as the Northern Chief Delegate, opposition against his appointment has been voiced by the China Students' Union and the Szechuen Guild. Both organisations branded Mr. Wang as the instigator of the domestic conflict and the head of an undesirable political party in Peking.

PEKING SENDS TROOPS TO BORDER OF TIBET

Measure Taken Due To Reports Of Serious Trouble Caused By Tribesmen

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, July 14.—As a result of repeated telegrams received by the Central Government from General Hsiung Ke-wu of Szechuen reporting serious trouble and danger from the Tibetan tribes along the border and requesting instructions, arrangements have been made, according to a reliable military organisation, for reinforcements to be sent to the frontier. The Government has wired the tuchuns of Shensi and Kansu to send five yings of trained troops from each province to cooperate with the troops of Szechuen province in defensive measures for the protection of the border territory.

Since the report of armed action by Tibetan marauders near the Szechuen border a few weeks ago, repeated requests have come in from individual generals and tuchuns of the three western provinces and of Yunnan for reinforcements and an investigation by Peking of the military situation. In consequence, this action, following the investigation of the number of troops in the province last week, has been taken. It is necessary to repeat, however, the statement of a foreign emissary well acquainted with the Tibetan-Chinese situation that there is no real danger of a breach on either side of the armistice which continues in force until October. Military leaders are naturally anxious to be prepared for the event of an attack following the end of the armistice term, but all reports go to indicate that by that time either the armistice will be renewed or a permanent settlement of the dispute in East Tibet will be reached through Peking action.

Commission Named

Peking, August 15.—A new commission for the study of Tibetan affairs, including all treaties and outstanding disputes was formed in the Cabinet yesterday, with Liu Yu-lin, ex-Minister to Great Britain, as its chief, and officials from the Ministries of War, Foreign Affairs and the Tibetan and Mongolian Bureau as members, among the latter being Mr. Ivan Chen and other experts in Tibetan affairs. The commission totals sixteen officials, and meetings are to be held weekly for study and discussion of flaws in the existing treaties, and the basis upon which new agreements are to be negotiated.

CHINESE SCIENCE BODY MEETING IN HANGCHOW

(China Press Correspondence)

Hangchow, August 15.—A notable conference opened in the "Convention City" this afternoon when the Science Society of China held its opening session in the Chekiang Educational Association Building. This society was organised five years ago by a group of Chinese students studying in America, its initial meeting being held at Ithaca, New York. In January, 1915, it began the issue of a monthly magazine which continues till now to be the most scholarly journal of science published in the Chinese language. In addition to publishing this journal the society has done far-reaching work in the determination of terms to represent in Chinese the new scientific ideas which are rapidly gaining currency in China.

More than thirty members of the Association from out of town were present at the opening meeting which took place this afternoon and fifty are expected to be on hand before tomorrow night. The conference was called to order by Prof. C. C. Chu (Ph. D. Harvard), of the Wuchang Normal College. The opening address was made by Prof. M. T. Hu (Ph. D. Cornell), of Ta Tung College Shanghai. Prof. Chin Ta-yuan, president of the Chekiang Educational Association, and several others made addresses of welcome. Prof. P. C. King, president of the Peking Agricultural College, responded. Reference was made to the effort now being launched to raise an endowment fund with which to establish and maintain a laboratory of scientific research.

The Science Society of China has a membership of more than four hundred men including not only educators but many others of scientific training engaged in the industries of the country. Its first three annual meetings were held in America and the conference now in session is the fourth. Henceforth conferences will be held annually both in China and among Chinese students in America.

Pay In Indian Army Discussed In Commons

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 16.—Mr. E. S. America, The Peace Conference And Shantung

By T. R. Jernigan

THE reason for the written opinion emanating from certain quarters that America had abandoned China to her fate because President Wilson had expressed confidence in the recent declaration of Viscount Uchida is a deduction that must stand alone for bad logic. The declaration stated the policy and purpose of the Japanese Government with reference to the Chinese province of Shantung, and the President merely said that he had confidence in it. It was the courteous expression of opinion by the executive head of one Government with respect to the policy of another government as declared by its Prime Minister. The President could hardly have done otherwise, and because of such an act of official courtesy America is accused of being indifferent to the welfare of China.

The fact is the secret treaties between the British, French and Japanese governments have seriously endangered the right of China to one of her provinces, and without the secret treaties Japan would not be claiming the practical possession of whatever is valuable in Shantung Province. There is no doubt as to the meaning of these treaties, and the meaning is clear that the British and French Governments give the pledge to support the right of Japan to be in Shantung.

The reason why the secret treaties were entered into need not be discussed here. The American Senate, however, appears to have the impression that the treaties were intended as a bribe to Japan to induce her not to join Germany in the war against the Allied powers, and the inducement proved effective.

The existence of the secret treaties was first disclosed at the Paris Conference, and it was then and there that Japan insisted that the British and French governments should stand up to and make good their written promise and pledge. Of course any paper writing bearing the stamp of the British and French Governments would be the guarantee of good faith, but the situation was no less complicated, and the President says that both Mr. Lloyd George and M. Clemenceau specially requested him to adjust the situation as pleasantly as possible in view of the circumstances.

In a statement submitted to the public by the President he emphatically says that he did undertake to unravel the tangle in which the Conference was involved by reason of the secret treaties. And why should the President be expected to turn his back on two friendly governments and go home because in an hour of great emergency and danger they had agreed for Japan to be in a province of China? The situation presented a tangle very much entangled. On the one hand were the treaties signed and sealed by the British and French Governments, and in which was plainly written that these two governments guaranteed the rights and appurtenances of Japan in Shantung province, and on the other hand there was Japan insisting on the honorable execution of the treaties. No one could doubt but that the treaties would be honorably executed, and so they have been.

And although Japan is in Shantung it is quite evident from the wording of the treaties, that not one of the three governments, which is a party thereto, ever intended or supposed that Japan was being invested with any prerogatives of sovereignty while in the province. The declaration of Viscount Uchida is conclusive that Japan did not understand that Shantung was to be under Japanese rule, and that her presence there was economically and not politically.

The provision in the treaty of peace between the Associated and Allied Powers and Germany, which bears on the right of Japan to be in Shantung, is the adjustment arrived at by the President, and for which he takes the responsibility. The President is not a man to shirk a duty or responsibility. When requested by the representatives of the British and French governments to adjust a complicated aspect of the Conference he complied in a spirit of unselfishness similar to that spirit in which he pledged the resources of his country and the lives of his countrymen to these same two governments in order to assist in defeating the ambitious aims of Germany. The adjustment made by the President has received the approval of the British Government and the endorsement of its Parliament, and the British newspapers of the fault-finding proclivity, and seemingly sensitive about America abandoning China, might be listened to with more attention if they would address their own governments on the Shantung question, and have London to speak a word to Tokio on the subject in behalf of China.

Alaskans Making Good

What the Alaska natives are doing and are willing to do as proof positive of their fitness to live under the Stars and Stripes is impressed on all who come in contact with the natives and their numerous activities along lines of advanced citizenship and patriotism.

By way of a minor illustration that shows which way the wind blows with them: The natives of Juneau, through the press, advocated the killing of dogs that there might be more food for human consumption. They advised their native friends to protect the deer from their dogs that might kill deer during their helpless condition following the last Winter's deep snows, when many starved and all were weakened for lack of food.

Down at Kake the natives have only about one-third to one-quarter the number of dogs that they had last year. One who went through the village last Fall and again this Spring remarked on the fact that there were almost no dogs in town.

"Yes," said a representative citizen, "the natives became convinced that from a sanitary standpoint and an economical standpoint they were keeping entirely too many pets. As a result of this conviction they began reducing on dogs and improving on health and food supply."

"We have no real need for dogs in this part of the country, where all the traveling is done by water, except a few that are trained to hunt bear. We intend to reduce our worthless stock still further and keep and breed only the very best bear dogs," said another citizen of Kake.

Another point that impresses even a casual observer is that natives all take local newspapers and read carefully—often very slowly—the events that are taking place locally and throughout the world. If a native is not a regular subscriber to a newspaper you may be sure it is because he cannot read one word of English or any other printed language. Even parents who cannot read will subscribe for a paper for their ten and twelve year old children, who have possibly had the advantages of two or three years in school.—Alaska Dispatch.

Senator Lodge

A Character Sketch Of America's Conservative Leader

By E. M. King
(New York Evening Post)

A European recently spoke of Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader in the Senate, as the embodiment of the "old Republican party" in the United States. What must be the view of American politics from Europe? Lodge—the American gentleman of the North, the scholar, esthete, conservative, senior member of the Senate. Wilson—the blue blood of the South, the academician, the liberal. And such figures as splendid Senator Hitchcock; broken "Uncle Joe" Cannon; bombastic Senator Borah of Progressive fame, and the younger element, Will Hays and Theodore Roosevelt, jr. What a medley for a European perspective; and a complexity, too, for one looking to understand political America at one glance. What could be said, in answer to such a searching view, of the type of American politician of the future? Is it Senator Lodge? Or Wilson?

It is not a pleasant thought, even though now often advanced, that men like Senator Lodge do not belong to the new era in American politics, for who but they have been the backbone of American political ideals and American culture for the last fifty years? What would the country have done, or do now, without them? They are the witnesses that can be called at last to establish claim to true national characteristics, to a real welding of peoples to form this new nation—for they are the new nation inborn; fine, upright, discriminating, learned, the evolution of old English civilisation in the new environment. But it would seem easier for a parent Englishman himself to lay aside the shell of civilisation that had served satisfactorily until this time, than it is for the descendants of the first settlers in America to "shed," so to speak, in favor of a new world brought about by Europe.

American development is new. It seems to some Americans that it is too soon to "cut over." On the whole, American Republicanism, Senator Lodge's Republicanism, is fully satisfied with established precedents. Yet we in the United States have associated ourselves with Europe—the Europe of ages, of accumulated wrongs and injustices. America new joins old Europe. In the actual combat nations shouldered arms together without measuring each other's temperaments. Now in the clearing they see each other almost incompatible—old age and youth; the wise nations with the foolish; scholars with illiterates—in position almost untenable without great concessions.

So far, Senator Lodge, and others in both parties, have failed to acknowledge a necessity for concessions to a new world. This is the whole theory upon which the fast-developing alignment of progressives and reactionaries is predicated. It centers around Senator Lodge, not so much because of his personal conservative stand, but on account of his responsibilities. Having arrived at his own conclusion against the peace program of the President through a long course of experienced reasoning, he, nevertheless, must serve as a figurehead for all the halfbaked denunciation of the course of the Administration at Paris. Thus, in a sense he pays heavily for his prestige as the majority leader of the highest legislative body of the United States, and the chairman of its most powerful and most important committee, that on Foreign Relations. And the United States pays now in its internal political struggle for that very tenacity which sustained the pioneers. The descendants of the forefathers are as adamant today as if each generation of the blood had left a fortification of pertinacity and not a little stubbornness.

Senator Lodge has been an eminent member of the Congress since 1886—in length of service he outranks any present member in the Senate, where he took his seat in 1893. He was a member of the House before that. Long and arduous work as member and chairman of important committees has given him an insight unsurpassed in either house.

His service on the Foreign Relations Committee has been brilliant. Diplomats are his friends and associates. When occasions of state bring together representatives of other countries, the latch of the Senator's study is lifted by many a statesman who comes informally to consult and chat with him. A wide acquaintance in Europe and the fraternal spirit of the litterateurs bring a coterie of men internationally famous around his study fire. He has known for years world figures whom the President has met this year for the first time.

But if Senator Lodge were asked what profession he followed, he would answer literature. Trained in law at Harvard, he became associated with the group of New England editors and writers who there persistently secured the ideals of American literature. When Lodge was a young man, he became editor of the North American Review, and since then he has written many books of history, biography, war memoirs and political discussion, monuments of study and literary appreciation.

Senator Lodge is a figure in the New England States so true to form, so essentially New England in the finest sense, that he personally represents in American politics the Atlantic seaboard section, which is to the Republican party what the solid South is to Democracy—the seat of party conservatism. Republican leaders are now attempting the almost impossible task of attuning the Republicans of New England to the variety that has been evolved in the Middle West, where there are heritages from the immigration of 1848 that brought an influx of socialist understanding, and where the spirit of the pioneer still contributes a desire for progress that is directly opposed to the self-satisfaction with which New England has settled down to enjoy the fruits of refinement. Extremes of Republicanism have met in the Senate as La Follette of Wisconsin sits with Lodge of Boston. One, the product of rapid, untrammelled Republicanism that has tended toward Socialism; the other, the conservative, intrenched in a bulwark of established party culture. Both Republicans; yes. But how far apart; could they be farther if they belonged to opposing parties? Is there not more difference today betwen the extremes in one party than there is between the two parties themselves?

Taking Senator Lodge now as a study of personality. There was a New England professor who said that he was proud to look into the eyes of his ancestors through those of Senator Lodge. No New England gentleman could be better portrayed—quiet, scholarly, quizzical, aloof, fine, the essence of what the West has misunderstood for unfriendliness, and the South has never understood at all. If there ever were two men mentally incompatible, they are Senator Lodge and the President. With them there would be no common starting point for discussion, no basis of agreement for the development of controversy; and both in their high sensitiveness and keen perceptions would refrain from displaying so obvious a disagreement for the sake of exchanging words.

Lodge goes about the floor of the Senate with no over-indulgence in words, in patronage or conciliation. His chat with a member is not toned for the multitude. His smiles are were flashes that start gracefully, travel up nose and forehead and ripple away in the closely waved hair. His voice and bearing signify restraint. There is an obvious reserve power within him. Whatever Republicanism endures in the United States would have a bulwark in the rules for personal conduct laid down for himself by the statesman Lodge. His mind is highly analytical. His argument is a storehouse of precedent and fact. He has waked his opponents into reminiscence time and again when they have stalked him with some of his own utterances of the past.

The criticism that is freely provided for any public person has been thrown at the Massachusetts statesman. He has been regarded as bitterly partisan. Summing up, there may be justification for these assertions, yet what Democrat of prominence has not been subjected to the same disparagement—and is there any great politician who is non-partisan? Senator Lodge believes that the foundation of the political system is partisanship; that George Washington inaugurated it, guided by the precedents from England. But a phrase from one of his earlier political essays, describes one of his truly transcendant characteristics, and it is this: "The revolt of the healthy human mind against humbug and pretence." And his own statement: "A man supports a party because he believes that on the whole the principles of that party are right, and that its success in the long run is for the best interests of the country. It does not follow that a party man approves of every party measure, still less that he approves of all the members of his party."

He is particularly clear in his conception of the political party in his essay on "Party Allegiance:" "What, then, are the real and solid foundations on which the party system rests? In the first place there is an inborn division of opinion in human nature itself. Some men are naturally conservative, others progressive. Some men desire to keep things as they are, others insist they shall change or advance. This is the fundamental distinction which underlies all party divisions. If one side prevailed constantly, we should stagnate. If the other prevailed constantly, we should have no stability. It is the collision between these opposing forces which has produced what we call, for lack of better names, human progress and the advance of civilisation. These, I say, are the fundamental divisions, but like all things human they are subject to infinite variations. Even in the same man there may be both progressive and conservative tendencies, and this truth is of much wider application in any large group of men."

In the spirit now of reminiscence, one could hardly overlook, in connection with the Senator, not something else fine and ponderous which he wrote, although one might continue with great advantage, but a bit of oratorical finesse which is always raked up among old friends at the Capitol, and that is the characterisation of Senator Lodge by Senator Tillman of South Carolina, who launched into such a gale of satire about him that the Senate was ordered into executive session, the galleries were cleared of the highly regaled audience, and the passage thereafter was expunged from the Congressional Record. It was in January, 1907, when Senator Lodge had been acting as Roosevelt's spokesman.

Senator Tillman: "As the negro preacher and telephone artist in the show, who on occasion gets into communication with the White House over the wire and acts as receiver and repeater, a veritable chameleon in his accuracy of reproducing White House colors, we have a Senator hailing from Massachusetts, the home of the sacred cod, where the Adamses vote for Douglas, and Lodge walks with the Almighty."

The home of the sacred cod is about all there is left of the old Massachusetts of Lodge's formative days. The Bay State has changed from all-American colonialism to a sizable habitat for off-shoots of Southern Europe and the shores of Ireland. Nahant, Mass., the New England village of placidity and true exclusiveness, where Senator Lodge passes much of his private life, has changed, too, but a change brought on by nothing less than a world war—the same force that has thrust Senator Lodge into the foremost position in American politics.

Canada And Titles

In deciding, by a vote of 94 to 43, to ask the British King "graciously to refrain" in the future from conferring titles upon persons living in the Dominion, the Canadian House of Commons brings to a head an agitation of long standing. It is a victory—at least a temporary one—for those who have feared the transplantation of the British class system across the Atlantic and who have, for that reason, fought tenaciously against the growing habit of the British Crown of awarding honors to Canadians of prominence.

For many years the number of Canadians who received titles bestowed by the British King was not enough to build up any considerable class or to present any danger of such a class becoming an appreciable factor in the life of the Dominion. But of late the annual honor lists have contained more and more Canadian names and the tendency has thoroughly alarmed those who cling loyally to the conception of a Canada founded upon the strictest possible interpretation of the theories of democracy and personal equality.

This alarm has been accentuated, and the opposition to honor giving strengthened, by the conviction in many quarters that the titles awarded are seldom given with a single eye to merit or virtue. It is even held by many that the "services" rendered have been too seldom rendered to the Dominion and too often to one or other of the British political parties or leaders. That was notoriously the case in the recent rapid elevation to the British peerage of a Canadian now living in England.

But the Canadian opposition to the honoring of men who, having been Canadians, decide to live abroad—is not strong. It is concentrated upon the possibility of the building up in the Dominion of a numerous and powerful aristocracy, identified perhaps with a considerable portion of the wealth of the country and exercising through these two mediums—social power and money—an undue and unhealthy influence upon the life of the country.

Whether the King will refrain from awarding titles to Canadians in the future in compliance with the resolution of the Dominion legislators is an open question. It is not actually a matter for the King personally, but for the British political parties, which draw up the annual honor lists and award the titles through the action of the monarch. So long as it remains an advantage for both Liberals and Unionists to retain this considerable and useful power of giving or withholding desirable rewards to faithful followers it will be extremely difficult to induce them to forego the practice.—Detroit Free Press.

Bringing Up Father — By George McManus

YOU ARE RIGHT- WE DID HAVE A LOT OF FUN WHEN WE WERE KIDS TOGETHER-
I REMEMBER-I USED TO GO OUT AN' COLLECT A LOT OF WOOD AN' ME MOTHER WOULD GIT SO MAD SHE'D THROW IT IN THE STOVE-
AN' DO YOU REMEMBER MY FATHER?
DO I? I USED TO GIT UP AT THREE IN THE MORNIN' TO SEE HIM TRYIN' TO WALK HOME-
IT SEEMS BUT YESTERDAY-
YOU CERTAINLY KIN MAKE TIME FLY- THAT WUZ FORTY YEARS AGO!
HOW DARE YOU INSINUATE I'M THAT OLD?

Statistics May Mislead

Statistics, though often interesting, are sometimes most misleading and futile. For example, it is interesting to know from the Census Bureau the number of prison commitments among the foreign born population of the United States, but it would be most unsafe to base any generalisations upon them, for the number of commitments to prison is no indication of the number of crimes committed, and there are many more criminals at large than behind the bars.

Those in prison were not clever enough to escape. They got caught. Those at large were able to commit their crimes and elude detection.

British statistics show that in only 15 percent of the indictable offenses that are committed is the perpetrator convicted.

The figures for America are probably not very different. Therefore 85 percent of the criminals are at large. It is fair to assume that this 85 percent is more intelligent than the 15 percent that got caught. Therefore the 15 percent for which the statistics are given is a highly selected group, and any conclusions based upon such statistics are untrustworthy as applied to criminals in general, however valuable they may be as to the comparatively small number that are in jail.

Surplus Of Women Is England's Problem

London.—The problem of providing means for caring within the British Empire for ex-service men who wish to migrate is receiving very serious consideration. Another grave problem is the disposition, satisfactory to all concerned, of England's large surplus of women.

The central and unchanging fact is the need to populate the empire adequately throughout. The results of the war have but emphasised its urgency. In the year before the war there were 373 persons to a square mile in the United Kingdom; there were less than 10 to the square mile in New Zealand, less than 2 in Canada and only about 1¼ in Australia.

But while the central fact does not change, the conditions surrounding it vary considerably from time to time. Migration to the dominions from this country today, for instance, bears very little resemblance to that which took place in the days of early settlement.

Today the dominions are highly developed, self-governing nations, with policies and ideals of their own. They have their own immigration laws. They, and they alone, determine what shall be the composition of their population.

Again, land values, especially since the discovery of the freezing industry, have increased by leaps and bounds in the dominions, so that the man with small capital has no longer the same inducement to seek to better his position by going to the "colonies" that he had formerly.

It will perhaps surprise many to learn that good agricultural land can be bought cheaper in many parts of this country than it can in New Zealand.

Some very apposite figures are embodied in the final report of the Dominions Royal Commission. Whereas in the period 1891-1900 only 28 percent went to the British Dominions and the remainder to foreign countries, principally the United States, in the period 1901-12 63 percent settled within the empire. In 1913 this proportion increased to 78 percent.

Emigration during the forty years 1871-1911 absorbed only 27 percent of the natural increase of the male population. In the case of women it absorbed only 22 percent of the total natural increase.

In the forty years from 1871-1911 some 590,000 more males than females left England and Wales alone, and, as the Commissioners point out, "it is clear that such a condition of affairs creates undesirable problems both in the United Kingdom and the dominions."

Between 1870 and 1910, 657,000 more boys than girls were born in England and Wales. During the same period 651,000 more males than females died. It follows that practically all the increase in the excess number of females over males at all ages in England and Wales between 1871 and 1911 was caused by the excess of male over female migration. This latter excess amounted to 590,000.

With regard to women, in 1911 there were in the United Kingdom 1,329,000 more females than males, and in the self-governing dominions 762,000 more males than females. During the war the surplus of females in the United Kingdom must unfortunately have increased. In the dominions, on the other hand, the war has caused, temporarily at any rate, some adjustment of the disproportion.

Obviously one of the problems for solution in connection with imperial migration is whether it is desirable and possible to divert to the dominions any proportion of the surplus of women in the mother country.

What the dominions require especially are agricultural laborers and domestic servants. The Commissioners state that "there were clear indications before 1914 that the agricultural population of the United Kingdom, on which the dominions had drawn so largely in past years, was no longer capable of providing any considerable supply of migrants. The purely rural population of the mother country was not in excess of her own necessity.

Painless Operations In A New Way

Dr. A.L. Soresi of New York, who has been serving in the chief military hospital at Milan (Italy), contributes to the Journal of the American Medical Association an account of a simple method of performing operations, without ether or chloroform and without giving pain. It is so simple and practical that it seems remarkable it has not been practiced before, especially as Dr. Soresi says it has resulted with perfect success in more than 3,000 cases, including more than 300 operations on the lungs performed by Prof. Bruschi of Como.

The method is as follows: "A dry, sterile scalpel is dipped in pure phenol (carbolic acid). The point of the back of the scalpel is passed over the intended line of incision, so as to mark it with the phenol. A few seconds later the scalpel is dipped again in the phenol and the tissues are incised very slowly and gently, the scalpel being moved up and down as in cutting with a saw. When blood appears a sponge is used or blunt retractors are applied if necessary, the scalpel being dipped in pure phenol as often as required. By this method a film of phenol is deposited on the blade. This film comes in contact with the tissues as they are cut, thus anesthetizing them. This film is rubbed off by the tissues or washed off by the blood through which the blade passes, and therefore has to be renewed by dipping the scalpel in the acid as often as necessary, according to the depth of the tissues to be incised."

Dr. Soresi says this is absolutely painless, not even being followed by a smarting sensation. And his experience proves that in not one of the more than 3,000 cases in which he has used it has it been followed by any untoward effects, such as absorption or even slight poisoning.

Incisions made thus do not, however, close so rapidly as those made with an untreated scalpel. This in many cases is a distinct advantage, as it is not necessary to insert gauze or tubes for drainage, and "the complete cure is rendered more easy, painless and more rapid, while the cosmetic effects are also much better." The scars left after healing are never ugly, even the slight redness along the line of the incision disappearing in a short time.

Dr. Soresi remarks that the method is not to be used when reunion by first intention and suture are desired. Its special value is in cases in which either local anasthesia is not possible or general anasthesia is contra-indicated.

WHARFAGE AND STORAGE RATES

On and after September 1st an increase of 15% on the existing Wharfage, Landing, and Storage rates will be charged, excepting for those goods for which Landing Accounts have been issued.

All rebates hitherto allowed will be withdrawn after August 31st, excepting on existing contracts made in writing and still in force at that date.

At the Pootung Wharves a rebate of 7½% will be granted on the Receiving, Storing, and Delivery charges.

Revised tariffs for Wharfage, Landing, and the Storage charges are being drawn up, and will be published in early November, the new tariffs coming into force as from January 1st 1920.

FLOORLAC

Floorlac is a high quality waterproof finish for staining and varnishing floors at one operation. It preserves to the greatest extent the beauty of the natural grain of the wood—it is unlike many stains which, although they look well when first put on, lose their brilliancy and fade out after short exposure. Floorlac is durable in color as well as in wear-resisting qualities. It will not show scratches or heel marks readily.

We shall be glad to talk over the question of floor finishes with you.

AIR POSTAL RATE IN U.S. NOW SAME AS BY RAIL

Great Increase In Business Makes Possible Reduction To Ordinary Mail Charges

The United States Air Mail Service is being put to full use for the more rapid transit of mails from the Eastern States for the Pacific coast and trans-Pacific shipment, according to word received from the Post Office Department by Postmaster Everett of Shanghai. The announcement also states that owing to the tremendous growth of the Air Mail Service and the inevitable greater increase in its use the postage rate has been reduced to 2 cents gold an ounce, the same rate as for ordinary transportation.

The announcement received from the Post Office Department, under date of July 18, is as follows:

By an order of the Postmaster General today fixing the rate o postage on mail carried by air plane at 2 cents an ounce, which is th regular postage rate for first clas matter, the Air Mail Service wa placed on the same footing as a other means of transportation of th mail.

The experiments during the yea which have been devoted to the adaptation of the airplane to the needs of the regular daily mail service, have demonstrated possibilities for increased efficiency for mail transportation beyond the early expectations of the Department. Since the conclusion of the war by the use of the Liberty engine and the availability of larger planes salvaged from war stock, mail in greate quantities can be carried as well a greater speed made by reason of th more powerful Liberty motor. Thus approximately more than 10,00 letters a day for Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles and othe points on the Pacific coast which fa to connect with the westbound 5:4 p.m. train out of New York are now being advanced 24 hours daily to their points of destination.

In the same way mail from New York that did not catch the 5:15 p.m. train for the West is now being delivered in Chicago in the afternoon instead of the following morning.

Arrangements are now being made to place on the New York-Washington route the three fastest airplanes in the Air Mail Service, each having a capacity of 18,000 letters and a maximum speed in calm weather of 132 miles an hour.

The Department in announcing this important change in the Air Mail Service makes the following statement:

"The successful operation of the Air Mail for more than one year and the great development for commercial work in the airplane in that period has taken this phase of mail transportation entirely out of the class of experimental work. The great saving of time now effected over the fastest railroad train between New York and Chicago will enable the Department to make a saving in car space of more than twice the cost of the operation of an air mail service on that route. It will therefore no longer be necessary to charge more than the regular rate of postage for the transmission of airplane mail.

"The success of the air ship in carrying the mail together with the great development that has taken place in speed, in quantity of mail that can be carried and certainty of operation makes it improbably that the air transportation of mail, whether by the Government or commercial air transportation lines will ever be stopped, but will increase from year to year by leaps and bounds, especially over long distances. The great expedition o mail by this means of transportation constitutes a service which the public throughout the country is now demanding, and in course of time will receive, as supplementing the train service.

"For these reasons the air mail has been placed on the same basis with all other means of transportation and the rate of postage made the same as over all other means of mail transit."

EXTENSIONS PLANNED BY BAPTIST MISSION

Two New Churches To Be Built And Other Structures Are Part Of Program

Two new churches, one at the North Gate and the other on Barchet Road; a new building to house the Ladies' Baptist Home and a school for women, to be erected on Rue Lafayette near Avenue Dubail, and an addition to the Eliza Yates School on North Szechuen Road are among the extensions planned by the Southern Baptist Mission, it was announced yesterday.

The expansion is made possible through contributions from Mrs. J. F. Seaman of Poughkeepsie, New York, the daughter of Dr. Mathew T. Yates, first Baptist missionary to China. Mrs. Seaman is well known in Shanghai where she lived until eight years ago.

The new church to be built at the North Gate property of the Mission will be constructed to conform with an extensive institutional program planned by the Mission and will be of three storeys. The lower floor will be a gymnasium, a church auditorium capable of seating 700 people will be on the second floor and the third story is to be used for class rooms. Plans have been drawn and estimates will be asked in a few days.

The other three buildings now owned by the mission at Rue Tourane and Avenue de Deux Republique will also be turned over to the institutional program. A primary and intermediate day school for girls and an evening school for 200 men are planned.

On Rue Lafayette near Avenue Dubail will be built a new Baptist Ladies' Home and school for women. The property purchased is nearly opposite the lot acquired by the American Church Mission for the building of All Saints Church for Chinese.

Contributions from Mrs. Seaman allow the Southern Baptist Mission to build the church at the North Gate and the home and school at Rue Lafayette. The land on Rue Lafayette near Avenue Dubail is a gift from Mrs. Seaman.

The additions to Eliza Yates School on Szechuen Road will be started immediately. An assembly room, gymnasium and several additional class rooms are provided for in the plans.

The Mission has purchased nearly three mow of land for the Barchet Road church, which is to be for Cantonese. Ground will be broken in a few days.

KASHING AUTHORITIES AIM BLOW AT STUDENTS

Plan To Hold Exhibition Of Products And Play As Part Of Boycott Defeated

(China Press Correspondence)

Kashing, August 15.—In connection with the boycott movement a national goods exhibition store was planned to be established on the main street at Kashing by the committee of the Students' Association there. For the start and maintenance of the store the students contemplated to exhibit a dramatic play so as to raise enough money to meet its necessary expenses.

As Kashing is a city within the area under martial law, the students tried to get the permission from the Brigadier-General Han Zau-ling, for the use of the city auditorium for the performance of the play. The Brigadier-General approved the movement but he said he was not in a position to grant the use of the auditorium which was under the charge of the district magistrate.

The students then turned to see the magistrate, who though insisting upon the permission of the General, was afterward persuaded to let them use the theater house outside the north gate provided that the students could make arrangements with the house. The house had been performing plays of the older type under the protection of the police even on the days when martial law was proclaimed.

Now the proprietor of the house at first consented to loan his house to the students but he refused to do so at the last moment upon the instruction of the magistrate.

The students were now rendered the more helpless as most of the tickets had been booked off at the entrance door at the house. In spite of some difficulties they secured some prominent men in the city who would go and try to secure the use of the auditorium from the magistrate's yamen. The students began preparing for the play in the auditorium, believing that the magistrate would grant its use and seeing there was no reason why the older kind of plays might be tolerated and those intended for the patriotic" activity should be suppressed.

Before the city men reached the yamen, both the magistrate and the General came with about thirty policemen and bodyguards to the auditorium. They came upon learning that the students were there and they came to do whatever they could to stop the play.

All the policemen and bodyguards came with bayonets fixed howling and yelling, while both the magistrate and the brigadier-general used all the abusive terms which characterised the tone of a northern loafer. All the money for tickets was taken away. Some thousand lists of the National Goods were thrown into the creek nearby. Worse than all, one of the students was severely hurt in the eye and the body with the butt of one of the policemen's rifles. All the students and spectators were then turned out and the auditorium was soon locked.

It is said that a number of protests have been sent to the Tuchun and Civil Governor against the retention of the services of the Magistrate by the people of the district, but as yet nothing is known as to what punishment should be given to such an outward and treacherous magistrate as this.
